The Goldsboro Messenger says: Miss Cobb, daughter of Debro Cobb, Greene county, who was so seriously burned a few days ago, has since died from her agonizing injuries.

The Goldsboro Messenger says: Trenton, the county seat of Jones county, is now a remarkable quiet village. No spirituous liquors are allowed to be sold within three miles of the place and this accounts for the absence of the former bacchanalianism for which Trenton was so noted.

The Messenger says: Two notorious horse-thieves, Rely Baile and John Conner, who stole a horse and two mules some time ago, from Endor Iron Works, were convicted at Pittsboro last Wednesday and sentenced by His Honor Judge Kerr to 20 years each in the penitentiary.

The Raleigh Sentinel learns that nearly $20,000 have been subscribed towards building the Methodist Metropolitan Church in that city. $40,000 are to be raised, and no difficulty is anticipated in raising that amount. In the proposed church there will be a pew bearing the name of each county of the State engraved on a silver plate.

Hillsboro Recorder: Quite a large audience assembled at Masonic Hall Sunday afternoon to listen to a sermon from Mrs. Caroline Shurtz. She is an old lady about sixty years of age with sharp features and a strong voice, and seemed perfectly at home on the rostrum. She read the 5th chapter of 1st Thessalonians and then preached up and down the bible wherever she could find a word seasonable for doctrine.

The Asheville Expressor says: The committee to whom Gen. Vance referred the matter have recommended John Wakefield of Caldwell, for the cadetship at West Point. John Cowles is recommended as alternate. No doubt Gen. Vance will regard the suggestion of the committee and make the appointment. The committee were Col. Folk, Dr. J. Mason, Spaulding and Horton Bowers, Esq.

Governor Brogden has been notified by the police authorities of Portsmouth, Vt., of the arrest and detention in that city of George Wilkins, a fugitive from Pasquotank county, sometime ago arrested for horse stealing and sentenced to fifteen years in the penitentiary. He is held subject to the requisition of Governor Brogden.

The Wilmington Star says: A young colored woman went into a certain store yesterday, with two cents in her pocket, in her hand, which she endeavored to exchange temporarily with the proprietor for two silver quarters. Upon being asked what she wanted with them, the girl replied that she had been requested by an old woman to get the silver for her, as she wanted to boil the pieces and get the tea with which to physic a person who had been "goophered."

The Raleigh Sentinel says: The famous Mann gold mine is in Nash county, near Ransom's Bridge and the Port mine is near it. William A. Brown, of Philadelphia, for Cato, Kugh and others, is developing the mine with great success. Some three weeks ago they ground 1,000 pounds quartz which yielded over 23 ounces gold worth more than fifty dollars. The supply of quartz on the property is indefinite and immense. Other lands adjoining are attracting notice and are thought to be of great value.

A fatal accident that occurred on the farm of Mr. Allen, of Richland Creek, in Haywood county. On Friday, the 17th, a number of the neighbors of Allen assembled to help him remove the felled timber from his land, and among them were two brothers by the name of Norwood. While they were busy engaged at the work, a large tree was blown down, a limb striking W. W. Norwood on the head, crushing his skull and producing instant death. Wooten Norwood was also knocked senseless, but his injuries were not serious.

The Northern Commerce says: The Rev. J. W. Lammour, rector of St. Stephen's (Episcopal) Church, of Goldsboro, warns the public against a one-legged Confederate soldier, by the name of Duncan, who is traveling through the country, soliciting aid on the strength of letters from Bishop and Clergy of the Episcopal Church. The letter was given to him when he was, perhaps, a better man, but he has since lost the confidence placed in him, and is in no way worthy of credit or belief.

VISITORS.—Our city was honored this week by a visit from two of Washington's fair daughters. Their pleasant faces and artistic beauty on the street, has thrown a ray of light around us, and broken the dull monotony that over-shadows the city. They are fine specimens of the beauty, grace and excellence that Washington is famed for.

REMOVED.—Mr. William Howard drug-gist, has just removed into one of the new stores recently erected by Messrs Howard and Phippen. Mr. Howard's store is undoubtedly neater and more handsome than any thing of the kind in the State. It is well worth visiting.

A. WRENN, NORFOLK, VA.—We call the attention of our readers to the advertisement of this gentleman in another column. He needs no praise from us, as his work testifies to his good qualities and superior workmanship. He is shipping his goods to North Carolina almost daily. Those who wish good and cheap vehicles, should correspond with him at once.

THE CENTENNIAL.—The centennial exhibition, it is estimated, will have cost, when completed $7,500,000, and in order to realize this sum it will be necessary for 15,000,000 people to visit once, at the price of admission, fifty cents; and as the time is confined to one hundred and fifty-eight days, from May 10 to November 10, exclusive of Sundays, it will require the daily attendance of over 94,000 people.

D. Swindell and Mr. Geo. W. Roberts. Alternates: Miss Ida Bassett and Mr. Fred Jones.

GENTLE SPRING.—How well these lines express the present season: The weathercock is dancing round, And will not settle east or west; The air is chill, and moist the ground, And all the sky in gloom is dressed. Uncertain spring! Poets were right Who gave the female form and face, For change is ever your delight, And fickleness your chiefest grace; And now you smile to lead men say, "I wonder if 'twill rain to day?"

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—We regret to learn that our old friend, Mr. John Cherry, met with a serious accident on Tuesday last. Mr. C. was feeding his hogs, and in turning to throw a stone at some chickens that were eating the corn from the hogs, stepped on a rail and fell, breaking his right bone. Mr. Cherry's injuries are severe, and owing to his extreme old age, which is about 77 years, will prove to be serious.

MEETING OF THE DEMOCRATIC EX. COMMITTEE.—At a meeting of the Democratic Ex. Committee, held at the Southerner office, on Thursday last, the following communication was read by the Chairman: TARBORO, N. C., April 6th, 1876.

CAPT. J. S. DANCY, CHAIRMAN DEM. EX. COMMITTEE. DEAR SIR:—Yours of yesterday advising me of a meeting to-day of the Dem. Ex. Com. of Edgecombe, has been received. My appointment as a member of the Committee and subsequent election as its Secretary, were courteous, doubtless as editor of the SOUTHERNER. I no longer find that position and you will please, therefore, present my resignation.

Lewis, a County Convention was called to meet in Tarboro on Tuesday, the 16th of May. The different Townships are requested to hold primary meetings and send delegates to the county convention.

No other business of importance the meeting adjourned.

J. G. CHARLES, Sec'y.

LAMPER-ERIA.—We were informed a few days ago, says the Washington Globe, that Mr. J. T. Winfield, who lives in the Choctawhatchee Township, while digging in a mud bed, came across four lamper-eria, all alive, one of which measured 18 in. in length. What they were doing there is a mystery, their native element being water. Will someone give us the desired information?

One of the above species of eels were on exhibition at the store of Hoyt Bros. on Tuesday, which was drawn up in a net by some of our fishermen that day. They are said to be as poisonous as a rattlesnake.

A GOOD FERTILIZER.—We call the attention of the farmers of this and adjoining counties to the double column advertisement of John O'Connor, Jr., of Portsmouth, Va., who is offering for sale his Nitrogenized Super-Phosphate of Lime, the oldest fertilizer manufactured in the United States, composed almost wholly of Animal Matter. It is guaranteed to contain no adulterant of any kind. The price has been reduced to $50 per ton in bags or barrels. Satisfaction guaranteed in every instance. Pamphlets or Samples of Phosphate furnished upon application. Give him a trial.

FREEMAN'S JEWELRY STORE, NORFOLK, VA.—This old and reliable jewelry establishment is now in full blast, and is offering superior inducements to customers. Citizens of Edgecombe and adjoining counties visiting Norfolk, should not fail to call on Arthur, a most able and polite gentleman, who will show you all the new styles of Jewelry, as well as the oldest stock for the Centennial laid in a large stock for the Centennial year. It is dazzling to your eyes to enter his door, the diamonds flashing both right and left. Nose but skillful workmen employed in repairing watches and jewelry. We refer you to his advertisement in another column.

NORTH CAROLINA SILVER.—Watauga, Montgomery, Alexander, Rowan, Union, McDowell, Haywood, Cabarrus, Davidson and Wilkes counties are the only sections in this State where silver can be mined. The mines are not worked nor ever have been except in Davidson county where for some time they mined for zinc. But work has now stopped there. The fact is silver will soon be a burden upon the national market and as soon as the Pacific road opens up free access to the mines of Mexico and Colorado silver will degenerate to even below the worth of nickel.

DEATH OF REV. A. PAUL REPTON.—The Rev. A. Paul Repton, D. D., was found dead in his bed on Saturday morning at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. Howard, on Boush street, Norfolk, Va. The deceased had just returned from Baltimore a short time since, where he had been to have an operation performed on him for the gravel. Dr. Repton was a pure good man, a constant Christian, and an estimable gentleman in every relation of life. He was a distinguished clergyman in the Baptist Church.

The Old Fellows will very readily recognize him as the instructor of Repton Encampment No. 15, of this place, and which was named in honor of him. This Encampment has been in a flourishing condition ever since its organization.

A FLOATING HOTEL FOR THE CENTENNIAL.—The Richmond Whig of yesterday says: The elegant steamship Isaac Bell has been taken off the Old Dominion line and is now being fitted up as a kind of floating hotel for the accommodation of visitors to the centennial. It will run between this city and Philadelphia, and will remain in that city a week at a time, or perhaps longer, thus giving persons an opportunity of seeing all that occurs. The boat will be the headquarters of the visitors, and will be conducted on the principle of a hotel. The company propose making arrangements with such military companies as desire to visit the centennial. It is supposed that the expense of the trip made in this way will about thirty dollars.

REGISTER YOUR DEEDS AND MORTGAGES.—The Charlotte Observer calls the attention of its readers to the fact that deeds and mortgages are worthless until they are recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds. Our contemporary cites a case of considerable loss arising from neglect of this important matter. A citizen of Mecklenburg county had given a mortgage for a considerable amount. The neighbor laid the instrument carefully away at home, where no harm could befall it, and a few days ago executions were obtained against the mortgagor for all that he was worth, if not more. Upon hearing of this the mortgagor remembered that the mortgage had never been registered, that all of these judgments came in before it, and that he would lose the whole amount of money which he had advanced on the mortgage. See that your deeds and mortgages are registered.

U. S. COMMISSIONER, FISH AND FISHERIES, WASHINGTON, D. C., March 27th, 1876.

DEAR SIR:—The process of hatching shad is about as follows: The boxes are inexpensive, should be of white pine half inch lumber, and should be well covered with material. They should be 22 inches long, 15 in. wide, and 12 inches deep, the bottom should be wholly of wire-cloth about 20 wires to the inch. Boats of 24 inches should be placed on the ends of boxes tilted them to the current of the river. The female fish is taken from the net and the eggs squeezed from her into a pan with about a pinch of water. If she is ripe the eggs flow freely and will run out while she is suspended above the pan. A ripe male is then taken and the milk dropped into the pan by the same means, they are gently twined together and the eggs are then rinsed once or twice in clear water the whole operation lasting about a half an hour, the eggs are then put into the stand and left to themselves. They will hatch in two or three days and will then remain in the box about two days when they should be turned free into the river. Do not put more than the eggs of two ripe shads in a box.

The process is about the same with the Rock fish. It is much harder to find ripe females among the latter.

It may be possible to assist you somewhat if an appropriate notice of your valuable information to the entire Eastern Section of N. C. It is so plainly and intelligently written that any one can understand it. If each seine owner on our river would construct a box and give his attention to hatching, I have no doubt the supply of fish in Tar river would be increased ten fold in three years. It is a fact established beyond doubt, that fish, such as shad, rock, &c., will certainly return to the stream in which they are hatched. Almost every fish that swims preys on the spawn of the larger fish, and consequently vast quantities of it are destroyed. Also the spaw of the shad and rock, caught in our seines and used for food are lost. And therefore it is very necessary that we should use some means to utilize the spawn of the fish caught, for reproduction, instead of for food. The total cost of the box will not exceed $1.50, and the process is simple, easy and short.

If a man is a public benefactor who causes two blades of grass to grow where one was growing, how much greater benefactor is the man who causes two fish to swim where only one swims now.

A large increase of fish will decrease the price of all kinds of meats, also the prices of the fish themselves.

Very respectfully, W. G. LEWIS.

From the St. Louis Globe.

The Successful Physician.

There is probably no man to whom the community owes so much as to the honest, fair-voiced physician, who does his actual duty both to himself and to his patients. He should be a physician, not a fortune teller, and his patients should be his patients, and not his patients' patients. Hence the advertisement of Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, may well claim the reader's attention. Dr. Pierce is a type of a class of men who obtain success by careful and well directed effort, not attempting too much, creating false ideas as to ability. The only reliable physician in these days of complicated disorders and high-pressure living is the "Specialist," the man who understands his own branch of the business. Such is his Dr. Pierce. For the benefit of his readers he has written a "Common Sense Medical Advice," which is well worth reading by those who need such a work. With strict business honor, high professional skill, reasonable fees, and a large corps of competent assistants, Dr. Pierce will doubtless make his name famous as a "household word."
